LATE FOREIGN NEWS.

Alexandria, July 23.—It is considered certain that Arabi will destroy Cairo unless defeated and captured.

An eye witness from Tan-Tah states that eighty-five Europeans were tortured and torn to pieces, and that women were ill-treated and tortured. Soldiers participated in the atrocities.

Alexandria, July 24.—The Rifles and mounted infantry occupied Ramleh early this morning. They stationed one Gatling and one field gun at the bridge over the canal.
The enemy's cavalry appeared and galloped boldly along the roadway, at 300 yards range, but fled upon a volley being fired. After a short time they reappeared with two guns with which they opened fire ineffectually upon the British troops, who took to cover. By nine o'clock firing had ceased, but the enemy are expected to reappear with reinforcements.

The Inspector of the Cadastra Railroad survey has arrived from the interior. He reports the total force of the rebels as about 100,000. He says that a volunteer cavalry regiment is forming to attack Alexandria.
Madrid, July 25.—The Government has decided to dispatch three additional frigates to Egypt, one to be stationed at Port Said, another at Suez, and the third at Ismailia.

Alexandria, July 25.—There are now here ten English, two Austrian, one American, one German, one Russian, one Greek, and three Italian men-of-war. A Turkish corvette arrived to-day.

There is nothing so sad as the items in the records in New York papers of deaths and prostrations by the heat, such as the following: "A woman, name unknown," "a man, no residence, so far as can be ascertained," "a woman, no home and no friends."

Matthew Arnold meditates a visit to America. Nothing has yet been settled, but he will possibly go this autumn. His view is lecturing in the principal Eastern and Western cities, but not beyond St. Louis. He contemplates a course of three lectures in each, giving an account or summary of each one of the principal subjects which have occupied him during his life—one religious, one literary and one social and political.

A curious political deadlock recently occurred in Serbia. In consequence of the refusal of the President of the Sankupschina (the Serbian Legislature) to comply with the request of the Opposition to make a statement by a certain day as to the intention of the Government in regard to the Serbian railway, the Opposition, to the number of 57, resigned in a body. As a consequence, a quorum of the House could not be formed, and its sittings were suspended pending the elections of the vacant seats.

A New York telegram says that archaeologists are excited over a despatch from the French explorer Charnay, announcing the discovery of a so-called "phantom" city among a hostile and jealous people in Guatemala. This confirms the stories, hitherto thought to be fabulous, of inhabited cities which still exist among the Indians in the same condition as Cortez found them.

The Stockholm paper Dagblad states that Sweden has entered into an alliance with Prussia to invade Finland in the event of a Russo-German war.
